

NGLMC ... Weekly News

The Native American retreat scheduled for the end of May has been cancelled.

Work week, May 11-15, at the Park of the Pines. We have a number of major projects that will take strong laborers, many cleaning tasks getting ready for summer, a bumper crop of pine cones in the campground area to get cleaned up. Free camping and the evening meal provided each day. "Come and join the fun and fellowship and help get the Park ready for a great summer."

Major projects will include the septic/drain field system for the dump station, foundation preparation for the new maintenance building, repairing the garage on the lower terrace, etc.

Saturday, May 16 will be an expo with activities and fellowship starting at 10:00 a.m.

with a worship service, lunch will be served, followed by presentations, Discussion and picnic.

Visit <http://www.cofchristngl.org> and <http://www.parkofthepines.org> for news of the mission center and of the park.

Have you ever thought about becoming a "Missionary" without leaving home?

Nacel Open Door Student Exchange

Many of you know that I have hosted many exchange students, 10 to be exact! I can only begin to tell you how rewarding an experience it is. To learn about another culture, as well as share your own is wonderful.

Nassima arrived here knowing hardly any English, skeptical of "Americans", and seemingly introverted. Ten months later, she left a confident young woman who had an experience of a lifetime.

While here she worked along side me at many community service projects. As with all teenagers there was the question of why? But the more we did, the more she learned how good she felt when she gave back. Giving back is not only an integral part of our belief system and way of life, but it is, now an integral part of hers as well.

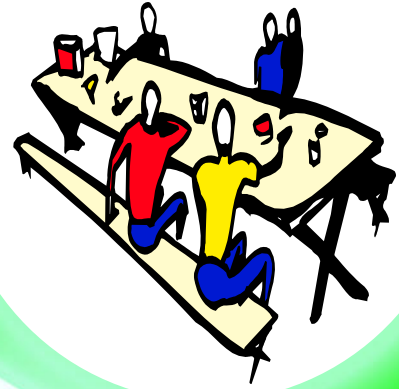

Interested in sharing and touching another's life? Give me a call, I have all kinds of students waiting to become a part of your family!
